Global Pensions Names BLB&G "Class Action Law Firm of the Year" for the Third Year in a Row

March 17, 2009

For the third year in a row, BLB&G was awarded the Global Pensions magazine Class Action Law Firm of the Year honor, presented at a glittering 10th Anniversary gala dinner held at London's Dorchester Hotel. This year's nomination process consisted of surveys from 15,000 online readers of Global Pensions, a UK based international pension publication, and a distinguished panel of international judges made up of key decision makers from pension funds and pension consultants.

This prestigious award recognizes "excellence in service" to the pensions industry, and BLB&G has been honored three years in a row as an international leader in the field of securities class action litigation. Since its founding 25 years ago, BLB&G has successfully tried several of the largest and most high-profile civil fraud cases in history, recovering over $20 billion on behalf of its institutional investor clients. Unique among its peers, the firm has obtained five of the ten largest securities fraud class action recoveries in history. BLB&G counsel Tony Gelderman was in attendance at the ceremony to accept the award on behalf of the firm.
