Benchmark Litigation Again Names Hannah Ross One of Top U.S. Women Litigators in 2020

August 2020

For the seventh consecutive year, Benchmark Litigation has recognized BLB&G partner Hannah Ross as one of the nation's top female litigators in its annual Top 250 Women in Litigation publication. This annual ranking recognizes "the most distinguished women in the world of litigation" following an extensive six-month research process that included a thorough review of their professional achievements, client feedback, and individual peer interviews. According to Benchmark, Hannah's selection is indicative of her status "amongst the leading female litigators" by "participating in some of the most impactful litigation matters in recent history." A key member and leader of trial teams that have recovered billions of dollars for investors, Hannah devotes a significant part of her practice to initial case evaluation and counseling the firm's institutional investor clients on potential claims. She also helps oversee the firm's Global Securities and Litigation Monitoring Team, serves as Chair of the firm's Diversity Committee and Co-Chair of the firm's Forum for Institutional Investors and Women's Forum, and serves on the Corporate Leadership Committee of the New York Women's Foundation and on the Council of Institutional Investors' Market Advisory Council.
