Background

The action arises from the rapid decline and ultimate implosion of Adeptus, formerly the largest operator of freestanding emergency rooms in the United States. The complaint asserts claims under the federal securities laws concerning misstatements made by Adeptus, its executives, underwriters, and the private equity fund that controlled the Company (collectively, “Defendants”) that overstated the Company’s profitability and concealed a number of serious strains on its liquidity. Among other things, Defendants’ misstatements concealed that: (1) Adeptus routinely overbilled patients for minor treatments, leading insurers to reject claims for reimbursement and threatening the Company’s revenues and the quality of its receivables; (2) the Company suffered from serious internal control failures that materially affected the Company’s revenue collection; and (3) that the Company’s coverage of 100% of pre-opening operating costs and losses on its key joint ventures with existing health systems, which created a serious drag on the Company’s liquidity. Defendants’ misstatements caused Adeptus’ share price to soar during the Class Period. Capitalizing on Adeptus’ artificially inflated stock price, the Company’s former CEO and CFO alone were able to reap over $50 million by selling their personally held Adeptus shares at artificially inflated prices.

Investors learned about Adeptus’ misconduct and the Company’s true financial condition through a series of corrective disclosures, including shocking revelations that the Company was facing a liquidity crisis. These corrective disclosures wiped out hundreds of millions of dollars in shareholder value. Plaintiffs filed the Amended Complaint on November 21, 2017. Defendants’ motions to dismiss were filed February 5, 2018, and were fully briefed on June 15, 2018.

On September 12, 2018, the court denied in substantial part Defendants’ motions to dismiss, sustaining all of Plaintiffs’ Exchange Act claims as well as a significant portion of their Securities Act claims – and dismissing only certain Securities Act claims based on two early registered offerings in 2014 and 2015.

On December 7, 2018, Plaintiffs moved for class certification. Plaintiffs’ motion was fully briefed as of May 6, 2019.

Also, on January 31, 2019, Plaintiffs moved to amend the complaint to add additional claims (alleging insider trading), additional false statements, and to specify certain entities affiliated with Adeptus’s private equity sponsor as named defendants. On February 14, 2019, Defendants consented to Plaintiffs’ motion to amend, though they stated that they would move to dismiss the amended claims. On March 5 and 5, 2019, certain of the Defendants filed motions to dismiss certain of the claims newly asserted in the Second Amended Complaint. These motions, along with Plaintiffs’ class certification motion, were fully briefed and pending at the time the parties reached their agreement to settle the action.

The parties participated in a mediation with a former United States District Judge on April 26, 2019. The mediation did not result in settlement, but the parties continued their negotiations in the months that followed (while continuing to conduct extensive discovery).

Fact discovery concluded in August 2019.

On October 14, 2019, the parties reached an agreement to resolve the case for $44 million. On November 26, 2019, the parties executed the Stipulation of Settlement setting out the full terms of their agreement to settle and Plaintiffs filed a motion for preliminary approval of the settlement.

On January 9, 2020, the court preliminarily approved the Settlement, authorized sending notice of the Settlement to potential class members. On May 20, 2020, the Court granted final approval of the settlement. Claims administration is ongoing.
