

The National Law Journal* Once Again Names BLB&G Among America's "Elite Trial Lawyers"

September 21, 2015

For the second year in a row, The National Law Journal ("NLJ") has selected BLB&G to its "Elite Trial Lawyers" list of the top plaintiff firms in the nation who have obtained the largest awards and most significant accomplishments for their plaintiff clients in 2015. BLB&G won the NLJ's inaugural recognition last year for pulling "in big victories in complex cases that have a wide impact on the law and legal business."

NLJ also selected BLB&G as one of six finalists contending for top honors in its "mortgage-backed securities litigation" category, one of several special 2015 practice area designations that recognize select firms for demonstrating particular excellence.

The winners in each category will be announced on November 5, 2015 and will be profiled by the publication.
