BLB&G has once again been ranked one of the top securities litigation firms in the United States.

According to data compiled by ISS's Securities Class Action Services ("SCAS"), BLB&G again was atop the "SCAS 50" rankings, with the largest average recovery amount among the top firms - nearly $145 million per case - and obtaining over $2 billion in recoveries in 2016 through 14 settlements.

SCAS has compiled the "SCAS 50," its annual report of the top firms prosecuting securities litigation in the U.S., for nearly 15 years. Every year since the list's inception, BLB&G has been at or near the top of the rankings - often with the highest total recoveries, the highest settlement average, or both. In the last decade alone, BLB&G has recovered over $14 billion on behalf of investors.

More Top Recoveries than Any Other Firm

SCAS also publishes the "SCAS 100" which lists the 100 largest securities class action recoveries on record. BLB&G has served as lead or co-lead counsel in over 30% of these cases - more than any other firm in the nation. The firm also has obtained six of the top twelve securities fraud recoveries in history - WorldCom ($6.19 billion), Cendant ($3.3 billion), Bank of America ($2.43 billion), Nortel ($1.07 billion), Merck ($1.06 billion) and McKesson ($1.05 billion) - more multi-billion dollar recoveries for investors than any other firm.
