

Sean Coffey Discusses Scheme Liability at the Bloomberg Securities Law Symposium

January 29, 2007

Former partner Sean Coffey participated as a panelist at the Bloomberg Securities Law Symposium, a one-day program co-sponsored by the CLE Institute and the New York County Lawyers' Association, which was held on June 29, 2007, in New York City.

Mr. Coffey provided insight on some of the latest developments in securities regulation and compliance for the panel entitled, "Scheme Liability." He also discussed the future of Section 10(b) Litigation after the Supreme Court's decision in Central Bank of Denver, N.A. v. First Interstate Bank of Denver, N.A.

Where:

New York, New York