

Rebecca Boon and Alla Zayenchik Speak at the Beyond #MeToo Working Group on Corporate Governance, Compliance, and Risk's First Roundtable of 2020

March 3, 2020

|BLOCK_PICTURE|

|BLOCK_PICTURE|

On March 3, 2020 BLB&G partner Rebecca Boon and associate Alla Zayenchik spoke at the Beyond #MeToo Working Group on Corporate Governance, Compliance, and Risk's first roundtable of 2020, "The Courtroom to the Boardroom: Stories from the Trenches in the #MeToo Era." The panelists spoke about litigation's role in creating meaningful corporate change to an audience of 70 professionals from a variety of fields. Rebecca, who served as a panelist, and Alla, who served as the moderator, are both founding members of the Working Group. Other panelists included Barbara Jones, partner at Bracewell and former judge in the U.S.D.C. for the Southern District of New York, Brad Karp, chairman at Paul Weiss, and Ripa Rashid, managing director at Culture@Work.

To learn more about the Working Group and view a full list of the founding members, click here.