

BLB&G Partner Rebecca Boon Will Serve as Panelist At Bloomberg Sustainable Business Summit's Focus on Finance Discussing Preparations for Proxy Season

December 9, 2021

Partner Rebecca Boon will serve as a panelist at the Bloomberg Sustainable Business Summit, Focus on Finance, discussing how to prepare for the proxy season. Rebecca's panel will focus on how the 2021 proxy season saw unprecedented shareholder interest in ESG proposals and how companies can effectively communicate their commitments and progress in these areas to investors, while examining best practices for shareholder engagement ahead of the 2022 proxy season.

Bloomberg's virtual events regularly brings together business leaders and investors globally to drive innovation and scale best practices in sustainable business and finance. This final summit of the year will provide key examples of how companies and investors are making the financial case for sustainability and will break down emerging regulatory and reporting trends, how to leverage financial resources to optimize your sustainability strategy, and how to maximize performance while providing a positive social impact.

The key themes of the summit are:

- Truth and Transparency: How to navigate evolving regulations and reporting frameworks amid increased scrutiny and shareholder demands.
- The Financial Case for Sustainability: Executives share inventive ways that investing in sustainability has helped them maximize purpose and profits.
- Collaborating for Success: Investors and financial leaders detail how close working relationships with sustainability cohorts, shareholders, employees, and communities lead to greater outcomes for all.
