

BLB&G Partner Scott Foglietta Teaches Seminar at Villanova Law School

April 1, 2022

BLB&G Partners Christopher Orrico and Scott Foglietta will be teaching a seminar at the Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law on April 4, 2022, focusing on developments in securities class actions.

Christopher is an alumnus of the law school and frequently presents to other law schools around the country discussing securities litigation. He is a member of BLB&G's Corporate Governance and Shareholder Rights Group, which represents investors interested in exercising a more assertive voice with corporate boards regarding corporate governance issues and the boards' accountability to shareholders. Scott is a member of BLB&G's New Matter Department, which is the firm's case development and client advisory group. Scott advises Taft-Hartley pension funds, public pension funds, and other institutional investors on potential legal claims.
