

BLB&G Partner Greg Varallo Speaks at Harvard Law School

April 17, 2026

BLB&G Partner Greg Varallo served as a guest lecturer at Harvard Law School on April 15. He led a presentation titled “Serius est quam cogitas: Reflections on the State of Corporate Governance in Delaware,” examining key governance challenges and the high-profile case against Tesla surrounding Elon Musk’s 2018 compensation package.

Greg is head of the firm’s Delaware office, prosecuting cases in Delaware and nationwide and helping the firm’s clients navigate complex derivative and class actions, business-to-business disputes, fiduciary litigation in bankruptcy court, and alternative dispute resolution. He has litigated hundreds of complex business disputes and has earned a reputation as a leading corporate governance expert and trial lawyer. A prominent thought leader, Greg frequently speaks on corporate governance and securities-related issues and has been published in The Business Lawyer, The Securities Regulation Law Journal, M&A Lawyer, Corporate Governance Advisor, Insights, and Business Law Today.
