

BLB&G Hosts "Shareholder Advocacy: The Important Role of Shareholders in Holding Boards Accountable Since 1602"

April 15, 2021

Join BLB&G and other senior legal personnel from the institutional investor community for a one-day educational seminar about shareholder litigation.

This seminar's unique programming uses case studies, practical examples, legal scholarship and sophisticated analysis to provide greater insight into the uses of shareholder litigation.

Attendees can expect to take away strategic tools for maximizing the recovery of losses due to securities fraud and misrepresentations in prospectuses, as well as insight concerning how to improve governance at their portfolio companies. The seminar will highlight the critical role institutional investors play in holding misbehaving senior management and boards of directors accountable to their shareholders.

Our Shareholder Litigation Conference Series also serves as a platform for discussions of significant related macroeconomic trends and networking among peers and experts.

Attendees:

BLB&G's conferences are attended by representatives from leading institutional investors, including investment companies, asset managers, mutual fund companies, trustee banks, sovereign wealth funds, public pension funds, corporate pension funds, and custodian banks. Attendees are usually from legal, investments, or operations departments.

Registration:

Registration is complimentary for institutional investors. As space is limited, we recommend registering as soon as possible.
