

Investment and Pensions Europe Publishes "The Fundamentals of Asset Recovery" by Tony Gelderman

May 2006

As portfolio monitoring and claims administration are becoming new “best practices” among U.S. and European institutional investors, Tony Gelderman, Counsel to the Firm, sheds light on the impact of these two increasingly important services in “The Fundamentals of Asset Recovery.”

Featured in the May 2006 supplement of Investment and Pensions Europe, the article addresses how the growth of class action recoveries over the past decade has increased the demand for portfolio monitoring services to identify potential securities fraud claims, as well as claims administration services needed to track securities litigation settlements. Mr. Gelderman discusses the vital role these services play in today’s changing class action settlement landscape.
