

BLB&G Partner Hannah Ross Shares Career Insights as Part of The National Law Journal's Profile Series Honoring Plaintiffs Bar Leaders

December 1, 2022

THE NATIONAL
LAW JOURNAL

As part of The National Law Journal's profile series on plaintiffs bar leaders, BLB&G Partner Hannah Ross provides insight into her professional journey, including her path to the field of law, challenges she faced in the early days of her career, and her dedication to inspiring the next generation of female attorneys. Reflecting on memorable cases during her 20 years with BLB&G, Hannah highlights the firm's development of new litigation strategies for the Allianz case at the height of the pandemic, and discusses the intersection of personal and professional milestones during the firm's litigation with Bank of America. Hannah also offers advice for lawyers as they find their footing in the legal world.

Click the link below (subscription may be required) or access the PDF under "Related Documents" to read the full interview.