

Max Berger is "Principal For A Day" at the Bronx High School for Law and Community Service

March 31, 2004

"PENCIL" – Public Education Needs Civic Involvement in Learning – was founded in 1995 to develop meaningful civic involvement in the New York City public schools. Through a variety of initiatives and system-wide projects, PENCIL creates a critical bridge between the civic community and the school community.

Firm senior partner Max Berger was "Principal For A Day" on March 31, 2004 at the Bronx High School for Law and Community Service. To learn more about PENCIL and the outstanding work that it does, go to www.pencil.org or call 646-638-0565.
