

Washington Public Power Supply System

January 1, 1990

After seven years of litigation and three months of trial, BLB&G obtains a $750 million recovery on behalf of investors in the largest municipal bond default ever. At the time, it is the largest securities recovery in history and is described by the Court as "a case of overwhelmingly unique proportions... a rare and exceptional case involving extraordinary services on behalf of Class plaintiffs..."