

Citigroup

January 1, 2013

BLB&G obtains a $730 million cash recovery on behalf of Citigroup bondholders, whose debt securities had plummeted in value as the bank's extensive exposure to toxic mortgage-related assets became known – the second-largest securities class action recovery in a litigation arising from the financial crisis and the second-largest recovery ever in a securities class action for bond purchasers.