Adam Weinschel is BLB&G's Managing Director of Institutional Investor Services. He has served in his current capacity at BLB&G since 2007 and has been working in the securities class action field since 2002. He is responsible for overseeing BLB&G's PortfolioWatch service and manages the firm's dedicated team of financial research analysts.

His work includes interacting with the firm's clients' custodial banks on a regular basis to obtain client investment data and then reviewing and analyzing trades to determine losses in securities cases. Some of his other duties involve assisting in the calculation and analysis of damages in securities class actions and analyzing material in the context of lead plaintiff motions.

Adam and his team of financial research analysts all have extensive experience in computing losses and damages, analyzing insider trading, performing Bloomberg terminal and other financial database research, and conducting economic, financial, and other factual research.

Adam received his B.A. in Philosophy from Brown University.
